STORYBOARD

WEBSITE STORYBOARD

- is a visual representation of your website's structure.
- It maps out all the components of your site and how they inter-relate.
- the blueprint for a web project.
    - It is a simple, flexible tool which can be used to display the elements on a single Web page such as images, banners, navigation, graphic elements and text.

PURPOSE OF THE STORYBOARD

- Creating a website storyboard can help you plan and organise your website and even plan the internal linking structure between pages.

- an easy way to see what information goes on which page and how that page will flow with the other pages on the site.

  - It will also allow you to see how the site navigation needs to be set up and avoid you having to redo the menus or content on multiple pages.

HOW DO I START STORYBOARDING?

1. Collect the information that you want to include on the Web site. This includes text as well as images.

2. Sort the information into topics. Topics should start at the broadest and work toward the narrowest.

3. For each page of the Web site, determine page title, headings, sub headings and content.

4. Plan the structure of the information and how the pages will link. This needs to be logical. It can be linear, hierarchical or a branch design, in the form of a web.

HOW DO I START STORYBOARDING?

5. Layout the menu structure.

6. Layout your template page. This should be the interior page of the Web site.

7. Test the layout. Imagine that you are a visitor to the Web site. You can enter on any page. Does it work? If not, start again.

EACH AND EVERY ELEMENT IN YOUR STORYBOARD MUST ADDRESS THESE CRITICAL QUESTIONS:

- What do I want my visitors to know here?
- What do I want my visitors to do at this point?
- What do I want my visitors to feel right now?
- Where do I want my visitors to go next?
- How do I make it easy for them to do that?
